Cesar Concealed Kitchen

The framing element with tall units conceals a real kitchen inside of it, that can be customized with appliances, worktops, wall units and shelves.

The tall units with retracting doors offer maximum space efficiency: the stainless steel pullout top offers an additional work surface. Once the doors are shut, the shelves and appliances are concealed behind them for an uncluttered, clean look.
